Registration Form and Application

K-5th Grade

StoryLab is a multimedia program for developing young readers and writers in the craft of storytelling. Covering a wide range of stories and storytelling methods from around the world, StoryLab explores the basic archetypes that all stories share, and provides the tools for students to craft their own stories. Exploring fundamentals of plot, setting, characters, as well as more nuanced techniques, StoryLab educates via fun activities, film screenings, writing exercises, music, and games.

Academic Standards

For more info about the Media Arts Standards and ELA Standards used in these projects, reach out to our program coordinator, Steffi Brink at steffi@indiegrits.org. Info is also available in the presentation itself for teachers to reference and prep students before the session.

Students' Rights and Behavior Expectations

The following students' rights and expected behaviors have been established in order to insure that every student has the opportunity to learn and create in a safe environment that is free from disruption.

- All students have the right to hear all instruction. This means students must refrain from talking out when the class is being addressed.

- All students have a right to be heard. Students must raise their hand before speaking out, and remain quiet while other students address the instructor or the theater.
- All students have the right to a clean working environment. This means students, teachers and chaperones must assist in maintaining a clean space.
- All students have the right to use quality equipment and adequate materials. This means students must use equipment and tools properly and not be wasteful.
- All students have the right to personal space and undisturbed work time. This means students must stay in their seat or group workspace, and keep hands to themselves.
